COURAGE AND COMPASSION FOR LIFE AS IT IS

Preparing to Let Go

Rayla Mattson

"It has long been an axiom of mine that the little things are infinitely the most important."

—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, in "A Case of Identity"

The year I graduated from college, I got a job and moved in with family friends. They were more family than friends, so when they bought a house, they got one with an in-law apartment so I could move in with them. It was great! I had my own entrance and bathroom and living space, but what I didn't have was a kitchen.

One month the grandmother came to visit and noticed me going in and out of their kitchen. Shortly after she left, I received an electric tea kettle in the mail. (At that time, I didn't know an electric tea kettle was even a thing!) She said she thought I might enjoy being able to make my own tea in my little apartment. I loved the fact that I could plug it in and make my tea.

My kettle has traveled with me to several states. It's been with me through marriage and divorce and the birth of my three children. That little tea kettle is the only way my children have ever made tea.

During the pandemic, the tea kettle came in handy. It spent time in all our bedrooms and in my office. It's easy to grab and plug in just before a meeting, and ensures warm beverages during long Zoom calls. The other day during one such meeting, I prepared everything for my meeting and my tea and plugged in the kettle. Partway through the meeting, I noticed the kettle was still cold. Later I checked in with my daughter who said that most days, the kettle no longer works.

This little tea kettle has seen me through so much of my adult life. I know it's okay to let it go but I can't—because I feel sad to lose a spiritual practice that I didn't even realize I had; a practice I took for granted but that I can now recognize, honor, and appreciate. So for now, the kettle sits cold and unused in my room.

As I let it go (or try to let it go), I wonder if there are other things I must say goodbye to that I'm not quite ready to let go of.

Rayla D. Mattson (she/her/hers) serves as the Director of Religious Education for the Unitarian Society of Hartford (CT). Outside of congregational life, she is raising her three beautiful children as a single mom.

Email and Related Listserv Arrangements to Change

In recent months those who receive email from US Hartford email addresses have reported email not being received in a dependable way. Certain large providers such as AOL, Comcast, Hotmail and a few others have become very picky about emails they will accept and deliver to their customers. This results in some USH email being labeled spam or simply deleted to the frustration of the senders and receivers.

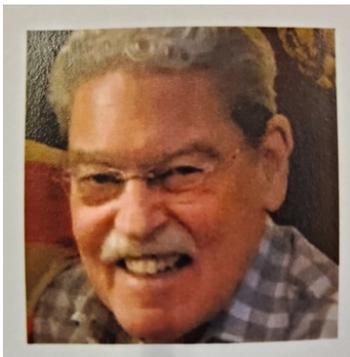

To deal with this increasingly frustrating issue, email addresses associated with USH will be migrating to Gmail, a large provider of services likely to be accepted by all other service providers. Associated with these changes, we will be moving our web servers to a new service provider and terminating use of listservs. Board members have been briefed on the contemplated changes approved by the Chairs of Community Within and Administration.

For those who wish to obtain a listing of the email addresses on a particular listserv, either Buffie Pinney or David Newton can provide the current and probably a little outdated listing of addresses, which can be further edited for individual use.

During this period of migration, email directed to old addresses will be forwarded to the new ones established by staff members. This forwarding is contemplated to continue until October 1st.

You can help by recording any new email address that appear in use and exercising the usual Unitarian understanding of diversity in problems of digital life.

Social Justice at USH

Hello Beloved Ones,

The 2021 Pride season is upon us bringing joy, celebration, grief, anger, and so many other emotions along with it. There is no one way to be during Pride, and that's OK. And as always, there is so much beauty and courage to celebrate, alongside the mighty work left to do to ensure all who exist within our LGBTQIA+ community can thrive and flourish.

To these ends, the Welcoming Congregations of Unitarian Universalism have been invited to join Inclusive Justice of Michigan, The National LGBTQ Task Force, and other national equality organizations for The Colors of Pride during the month of June to offer activities focused on the liberation of people targeted by unjust legislation, oppressive public policies, and harmful policing practices.

By engaging the faith community around these activities, we are acknowledging that many people hide behind their religious convictions as reasons for opposing the LGBTQ community and the legislation that would provide for their safety and support. Many of these same people of faith are silent when it comes supporting efforts for racial justice and the Black Lives Matter movement.

The Colors of Pride is an opportunity for congregations to publicly support equality during Pride month and commemorate Juneteenth. Our goal is to create opportunities for allyship with the queer community, Black and Brown communities, and congregations by engaging at least 300 congregations nationwide to agree to participate in our pro-equality actions during Pride month.

THERE ARE THREE EASY WAYS TO PARTICIPATE:

1) SHOW A PRE-RECORDED MESSAGE: Throughout Pride Month, during your weekly service or on your website and Facebook page, show a pre-recorded message from national religious leaders speaking about the importance of supporting Intersectional Equality by supporting the Equality Act. Each message is 6 minutes or less.

Introduction to the Colors of Pride - Rev. Dr. Roland Stringfellow (Detroit)

Rabbi Denise Eger (Los Angeles)

Bishop Karen Oliveto (Denver)

Rev. Manish Mishra-Marzetti – (Ann Arbor)

2) SIGN UP FOR PRIDE WEEK ACTIONS: Sign up to participate in a variety of opportunities during our Pride Week (June 11-19) to educate your congregation on upcoming equality legislation from the Equality Act to the George Floyd Policing Act to our national Juneteenth Celebration!

Monday, June 14th @ 7pm ET - Kickoff training with NEAT

Wednesday June 16th @ 8pm ET - "Schedule, Script and Speak" training

Saturday June 19th @ 12pm ET The Juneteenth Celebration on YouTube

CLICK HERE to join Pride Week Actions

3) ACCESS THE TOOLKIT: Use The Colors of Pride Tool Kit assembled by national equality organizations to provide your congregation with the latest information on legislation and how to support the LGBTQ community this Pride Month and beyond! You may share information and resources on social media and local print media.

Will you partner with us in this “pride outside of the box” celebration?

We know that Pride is a busy time for many congregation. All the information you need to participate in The Colors of Pride can be found in the Action Toolkit. You are free to participate in as many actions as time permits.

If you have any questions about involving your Welcoming Congregation in The Colors of Pride celebration and actions, please email lgbtq@uua.org.

Thank You ... and HAPPY PRIDE!

Greetings to USH !

I wanted to follow up to let you know that it truly was an honor and a pleasure to be able to attend worship on Sunday, your congregation is full of such wonderful and loving individuals who have hearts of gold and spirits made of steel.

I really had an amazing experience in being able to contribute and I wanted to reach out in case there was more information that I could provide and to see if there were any touchpoints or questions that came about that would need my attention.

As always, The Village is proud to be your neighbor in more than just the physical sense and if there is anything you ever need from me, please do not hesitate to reach out as I will be there in any capacity I can be for all of you at USH.

The Artist's Way group celebrated the end of pandemic isolation with an outing at Hammonasset Beach State Park. We enjoyed a cool but sunny day, leisurely lunch, short walks in nature, and seeing one another. From one member: "It was so wonderful to be together again face to face and hug to hug!"

Artist's Way will be planning and leading the Sunday service on August 8. The group will resume regular meetings in late September/October 2021. "

USH Staff Transition & Update

Briana Bittel, USH Custodian for many years, has decided to step back from her custodial position at this time. She recently had shoulder surgery and will be continuing to mend at home. She appreciated her many hours working and spending time at USH and sends everyone her good wishes and appreciation. If you'd like to send Briana a card wishing her well, please do so -- you can send a card to the USH Office and Buffie will gather them and get them to Briana. Thank you for all your energy & good cheer, Briana! And thanks to Kevin Girourard and others at USH who will attend to custodial tasks in the interim until the next Minister arrives.

--Rev. Heather, on behalf of the USH staff team

Stewardship Follow-up

Thanks to all who have pledged. If you haven't yet but intend to, please let Peter Meny, plmeny9@gmail.com, our pledge follow up lead, know your intentions re: pledging so he won't need to call.

As always, you can give by check, credit card, or automatic withdrawal from your checking account – either monthly or in a lump sum. Gifts are tax deductible. If you encounter difficulties or have questions, contact me or our accountant Brian Mullen. Please give as generously as you can to help to maintain USH as a vital and caring community for all of us. Thank you.

Summer Worship - "Embracing and Releasing"

Summer worship at USH is lay-led by thoughtful, observant, caring and committed members of our congregation. This year the theme of "Embracing and Releasing" will bring sermons opening us to contemplation of the array of emotions and insights we have encountered in the many months since March 2020. So much has happened; our lives, our sleep, our families and friends, the very structure of our days have been affected yet we keep on keeping on.

We will open with General Assembly on June 27 and on the 4th of July we are welcomed to All Souls UU, New London. The calendar for the lay services is currently a scaffold; titles will change and more information will develop as sermons and worship are written and revised but most importantly, take a look at our wonderful speakers and anticipate a summer of embracing and releasing.

June 27 - General Assembly: Live-streamed country-wide UU worship

July 4 - All Souls New London with Rev Carolyn Patierno

July 11 - Judy Robbins "A Summer's Day with Mary Oliver"

July 18 - Rick Tsukada "A Requiem: We are Sorrow, We are Beauty, We are Love"

July 25 - John Bengtson "How to have hard conversations"

August 1 - Lisa Galinski "Crossing the Edge"

August 8 - Sue Spaniol/Artists' Way "The Gift of a Year"

August - Our interim minister will join us for a two year exploration

All services will remain on-line until Ingathering September 12th when, fingers crossed, we will resume in-person worship at the Meeting House with a live feed to your home.

Meetings at the Meeting House!

It was a delight to see so many faces — some fully-vaccinated souls unmasked, even! — at our flower communion drive-through. There was a sense of emerging from a dark, lonely cave into sunlight and laughter, and a promise of more bright days to come.

Some of you have asked about whether in-person gatherings are happening at the Meeting House, and the answer is yes!

A few guidelines are in order, none of which are new. If you're like me, though, you might notice that some of the personal software-- which allows functioning as a civilized person--has been overwritten during the pandemic. I, for one, have gone rather feral. Thus, I need some gentle reminders when it comes to real human interactions.

Here's what to do if your group wants to meet in person at USH. The list isn't exhaustive... someone always comes up with some additions... but it'll get us started:

Check the events calendar on the website. The calendar is your friend. Any planned usage of space should be included here.

Assuming you see no conflicts for day, time, and space, contact Buffie at hartforduusociety@gmail.com to schedule the space and get your event onto the calendar. Copy Rayla in as well at ctraylab@gmail.com; she may be dealing with a rental prospect, and needs to know how our space is being utilized.

If your gathering includes some people participating from home, arrange for one of USH's Zoom links to be reserved. One of the benefits (?) of this pandemic comes from broadening virtual connections; let's take advantage of this to continue including those unable to be here in person.

When you do meet, at the end of your gathering please take a few minutes to tidy up and leave things organized for the next group. (You know... re-set the thermostat; turn lights out; don't leave dirty dishes, etc.)

These basic acts of courtesy and consideration once were second nature and will be so again once we reacclimate. Be gentle with yourselves and with each other, and enjoy being together again.

Making Progress: Upgrading Tech to Stream Services from the Sanctuary

A small group of Buildings & Grounds folks and friend spent a full morning at the Meeting House, helping our incipient live-streaming project move further along. At this time, all the mounted camera feeds are hardwired into a digital mixer, and we now can select among four video images from the sanctuary. There's yet much to be done: audio synch, graphics, learning the system. But we've taken the leap from idea/concept to real time video, and it looks amazingly good! Even with low lighting, details are clear.

At USH's Annual Meeting this Sunday, you can see an extremely brief clip, thanks to the combined talents of the Covaults, of what's been accomplished. It looks simple, but it wasn't all that easy. Please take the opportunity to thank our B&G/Video team for fast-tracking this project and following through on countless details in its birth.

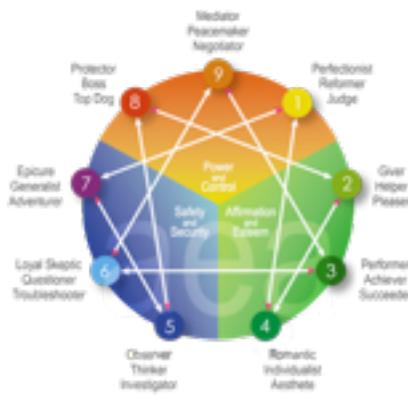

Here are a few candid shots:

1. Who are these masked men?
(Paul Cipriano, Stu Spence, and Kevin Girouard, running cables into the office)
2. Jon Covault painstakingly attaching cable terminals
3. Each cable houses 8 color-coded wires; each wire has a specific function
4. Hooked up, and trouble-shooting on the monitor

Programs for Adults and Families

Introduction to the Enneagram

This free 3-session summer program will introduce you to the Enneagram, a system of personality types that many find reliable and useful for both personal and spiritual growth. You'll be provided with the official test to learn your type and many resources and handouts to explore further, both in the group and on your own. Sessions will be scheduled 10:30am to noon on 3 dates in July and August, to be selected by the group. First and third sessions will be on Zoom, the second (hopefully) in person. For a link to a concise description of the enneagram, go to Wikipedia or text the facilitator, Anne Bailey, at 860-798-4765. For more information or to register, contact Anne at 860-379-7740 or abailey379@gmail.com. Registration will be open through June 26.

About your facilitator: Anne Bailey is a lifelong UU and member of UC West Hartford who has a knack for research and finding resources. She has been acquainted with the Enneagram for more than 20 years and has found it an invaluable tool for better self-understanding and improving relationships with others.

Adult Programs:

The USH Book Club: Meets monthly, on the 2nd Thursday, 2:30 – 4:30 pm, via Zoom. All adults in the USH community are welcome. Please contact Ginny Allen at fiddlenurse1@gmail.com if you'd like more information or if you want to join. An email with Zoom link will be sent a day or two before the meeting.

20's/30's Group: If you would like to join, please email Tara Cote at tcote11@gmail.com.

Disability Support Group: This group has moved its gathering online. Please reach out to the facilitators for more info. In this group participants discuss the challenges of physical disability (chronic illness, chronic pain, impaired senses, impaired mobility) and emotional pain (loss, mental illness) and the stresses of caretaking a loved one. What is said in the room stays in the group. Email Don Hope for more information at donhope48@gmail.com or call at 860 463 7982.

UUA General Assembly & Conference Services

We are pleased to announce that our Saturday Morning Worship will be led by a collaborative team from three congregations in the Greater Hartford, CT area. The congregations have been growing in collaboration and covenant for years. A huge welcome to our worship leaders: Rev. Adam Robersmith, Dianne Daniels, Rev. Dr. Josh Pawelek, and Rayla D. Mattson, DRE of USH. In their intergenerational service, that share with you how they learn, practice, pray and dream. #UUConnect #UUAGA

During this pandemic, we have moved nearly everything we do online. As we open up, many congregations will be maintaining online options to participate, too. No matter where you are in the world, you can be a part of a Unitarian-Universalist community.

Rev. Dr. Adam Robersmith,
GA Saturday Morning Worship Leader

Imagine a church that encourages members and friends to embrace and honor each other's beliefs and provides opportunities to worship together as one faith. We are a loving, diverse, and open-minded religious community that encourages and empowers you to seek your own spiritual path, wherever it leads.

Dianne M. Daniels,

We have collaboration among congregations matters because our theology is relational, because our principles center our interdependence, because remaining in our geographical sites now keeps us small and personal all a time when we are called to burst forth proudly with our message of love, compassion, and justice.

Rev. Josh Pawelek,
GA Saturday Morning Worship Leader

Advice for first time attendees to a virtual General Assembly:

Try something new!
Meet someone new!
It's OK to be afraid.
What if it turns out really well?

Rayla D. Mattson,
GA Saturday Morning Worship Leader

Please help me congratulate Kennedy Mattson!

She will be the youth participant at the Sophia Fahs Lecture at GA this year June 25th at 5:00pm. She will be speaking along with two college students as they center the voices of BIPOC youth and young adults.

We also congratulate Bradshaw Mattson!

He was hired to be one of the youth of color staff on the GA planning team this year. I hope many of our youth will attend and support him as he moved into a national leadership role.

Caring Network

From the USH Caring Network:

Valerie Klokow would like some help with meals. Standing and cooking have become very difficult for her. She does not feel it is safe for any of us to bring meals to her home. She would welcome gift cards from GRUB HUB, or from restaurants that deliver meals. IT IS VERY IMPORTANT THAT THE RESTAURANTS DELIVER THE MEALS. Thank you for any help you can give.

From the USH Caring Network: Please inform the Caring Network of needs, or volunteer your services. If you know of any member experiencing some difficulty, please contact Eve Pech or any member of the Caring Network so we can provide some assistance. A wide range of community services is also available to those in need by calling the Community Info Line at 211.

Church Community Celebrations

New Member Update

Please Join us in welcoming Lee Townsend and Kathleen Lee as our newest members here at USH. Please see their bio info below.

Lee Townsend has been a Unitarian for more than 30 years. She tells her story this way:

I grew up as an Episcopalian. I loved the hymns but couldn't buy the belief system. When I was 16, I realized I just wasn't Christian. When I was in my early forties, a friend told me I was a UU. A what?? I became a member of UUS:E and was there until I moved to West Hartford from Manchester. I became a member of UCWH. It worked for a while then I realized the church's philosophies were no longer mine. I had changed. Last November I tried USH. I loved it. For the first time in my life, I listened to the sermons. They worked for me. So - here I am.

My professional life consisted of twenty years in industry where I modeled industrial lasers. After 17 years UTC decided it was time to lay me off. I then started my own company with three other people. We designed a laser that worked! I designed it using Excel. Then we were done. Since then I have been teaching math and physics at the University of Hartford. I have thoroughly enjoyed it. I wrote Excel codes for the administration and colleagues. I have six patents in lasers and was made a senior member of the Optical Society of America. That was quite an honor. As I glided into age 76, I realized it was time to get back to music. I love early anglo- and afro- American traditional music. I also have sung in choirs since fourth grade. I really love early music as well.

I am retiring at the end of June, 2021. Retirement means it's time to clean off all my computers and devices, clean up the mess in the house, and return to being a musician. I am really looking forward to my new life.

Kathleen "Kathy" Lee decided to check out USH when services came online and stayed for the past year. She's been a UU since the 80's, starting in the small fellowship in Storrs, then as a member of congregations in the Pacific NW - Portland and Seattle - through the 90's. She has been a member of UUSE in Manchester (where she lives with her dear pup, Maybelle) since returning to CT in 1999 to be with her family. Kathy enjoys cooking (a lot!) and spending time near the ocean - she "glamps" in the summer at Hammonasset.

She was drawn to USH because she is at a place in her life where she would like to make new friends and be open to some new experiences. She's enjoyed getting to know the USH congregation and has been amazed at how "zooming" with USH members has given her an opportunity to get to know people more deeply than might have happened from going to Coffee Hour in person for a whole year. She's looking forward to Volunteering during the online GA - acting as a Zoom Host - and meeting other UU's from all over - and can't wait until she can meet everyone at USH in person!

Upcoming Events

Please note: registration is required for each individual workshop in advance*

MOBILIZE YOUR BOARD TO RAISE FUNDS

Thursday, June 10, 11:30 am – 1:30 pm

Presenter: Judith Margolin, www.needagrant.org

In these challenging economic times, nonprofit board members no longer have the luxury of saying, "I don't raise funds." This webinar delivers the tools to both incentivize board members and to help them become more comfortable with the fundraising process. It provides an ideal opportunity for nonprofit staffers to participate with their board members. Topics covered include: who should and should not be on the board, what policies and structures need to be in place to facilitate board fundraising, how to achieve a state of grantseeking readiness, and how to develop an action plan to move toward a fully engaged board. Specific attention is paid to the various roles board members can and should play vis a vis your organization's prospects and donors. Click here to register

BOARD MEMBER BOOTCAMP

Wednesday, June 23, 12:00 pm – 1:30 pm

Presenter: Mae Maloney, Leadership Greater Hartford

Newly appointed nonprofit board members or serving board members that have never received formal board training will learn about the ten basic responsibilities of nonprofit boards as well as the duties of individual board members, relationship between board and staff, and common issues facing nonprofit boards. PowerPoint presentation and other handouts will be emailed to participants. Click here to register

All workshops are offered at no cost to participants through a partnership between Hartford Foundation for Public Giving and Hartford Public Library

REGISTRATION IS REQUIRED FOR EACH INDIVIDUAL WORKSHOP IN ADVANCE

Peace – as we come to the close of the USH-Enews week.
Be kind to others – and to yourself.

Our Unitarian Universalist Principles: The member congregations of the Unitarian Universalist Association covenant to affirm and promote: the inherent worth and dignity of every person; justice, equity, and compassion in human relations; acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations; a free and responsible search for truth and meaning; the right of conscience and the use of the democratic process, within our congregations and in society at large; the goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all; respect for the interdependent web of all existence, of which we are a part. Consider the proposed 8th Principle as well! <https://www.8thprincipleuu.org/>.
