A Message from the Minister

I had never heard of the Thanksgiving Day holiday until I visited the U.S. for the first time in the late 1970s. It was a purely American tradition that had not been publicized in my small world.

We didn't have pumpkins or Jack O'Lanterns when I was kid growing up, although I understand that those things are now fairly commonplace in the land that I used to call home.

My first exposure to Thanksgiving was with the American family that I eventually married into. Although I must say that I enjoyed it very much, I wasn't able to feel a connection with history, and the historical significance of the holiday was a bit lost on me.

Over the years Thanksgiving has become one of my favorite holidays. It doesn't come with all the pressure of gift-giving (aka shopping), and is mostly a time for families and friends to reassemble as kinship groups, to share stories, and check in with one another.

I have come to appreciate the ritual of sharing with others the things for which I am feeling the most gratitude, and hearing what others are feeling grateful for as well.

A couple of years ago I stumbled upon the wisdom of David Steindl-Rast, a Benedictine monk who has made the connection between gratitude and happiness. Br. David has made many videos on the subject, and I recommend that you check them out. Here's one that you can click on and watch: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UtBsl3j0YRQI> in recent years the Thanksgiving holiday has become associated with the horrific injustices committed against indigenous people in North America. Coming from a country of origin where my ancestors perpetrated unspeakable crimes against defenseless peoples – like intentionally giving them blankets infected with smallpox – I feel shame and empathy. The time is long overdue for our society to do whatever it can to make amends for the past.

If we ignore the lessons of history, I believe we are certain to repeat the old mistakes and commit the old injustices once again. That is one reason I feel that teaching our country's history of racism in our schools is so important.

It is also important to acknowledge that past mistakes and misfortunes are part of our story. More now than ever we need to be comfortable sharing our complete story, especially as our country inevitably begins to pullback from being the world's policeman and occupy a different place in the family of nations.

Telling our story though, and sharing and acknowledging our history, does not mean that we should abandon the Thanksgiving holiday, nor condemn those who continue to celebrate it. Instead, we can feel and express gratitude, and be moved to share our good fortune with others.

For there are so many things to be grateful for, notwithstanding the pandemic and the political rivalries in our country today.

Our congregational listening circles over the last few weeks have brought many stories to light. Stories that help to inform us who we are as a congregation.

The lessons from these stories will help the congregation in its search for its next minister.

And, the mistakes and misfortunes can be shared without incurring judgement. There's very little to be gained from attributing blame, and nothing to be gained in the long term by excluding what happened in the past from our history books. As it goes for our country, so it goes with our congregation.

We celebrate our history not only by lifting up its glory and its accomplishments, but also by owning up to our mistakes and misfortunes, and sharing all with gratitude, and pride, and hope, and joy.

So please, celebrate Thanksgiving. Don't feel that you shouldn't celebrate the things for which you should be grateful.

Nor sweep under the rug those things you would rather not want to talk about. These things are a call to action, not shame.

I sincerely hope that all of our members and friends enjoy a blessed Thanksgiving holiday. That you can see in your hearts and your lives the things for which you should feel gratitude. As well as remembering what came before that made us who we are, so that we can all move forward together to bring about justice, and change.

Happy Thanksgiving.

With love and gratitude, Rev. Terry Cummings

USH Welcomes 4 New and Returning Members (in-person).

On Sunday, November 11th, USH held its first in-person, in-sanctuary New Member ceremony since December of 2019. (That was prior to the beginning of the COVID-19 pandemic which forced our congregation to suspend in-person worship until it resumed in September of this year.)

An informal reception included having the new and returning members sign the membership book, receive a rose and being treated to some cake and other refreshments as they had a chance to meet existing members. (Photos by Harriet Gardner)

RE News You Can Use: Rayla D. Mattson, Director of Religious Education

Hello USH Family!!

This is the enews for the 17th. I will send you the story in a separate email.

3rd Principle - Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations.

Week 1: I hope you all were able to fully engage in our first two UU principles. I know I have done a lot of reflecting lately on what they mean to me and my family and how we can live more fully into them. As a reminder, the good thing about each of our principles is that every day is a new chance to incorporate them into our lives.

The book for our 3rd Principle: Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations is a classic story Frederick by Leo Lionni. It's a beautiful story of accepting others and their gifts and journey even if you don't understand it. For me, it causes me to pause before judging and try to get a better understanding. It also teaches me that I may not ever understand and that it's not a requirement for acceptance. I hope you and your family enjoy this story as we move into our next four weeks of reflection.

Holiday Regifting Sale - The Joy of Buying Used!

Treasures in your drawers and closets can now be donated to the USH Holiday Regifting Sale. Get ready for the holidays by clearing out the old and making way for something more meaningful.

Regifting has been a holiday tradition of the USH Green Sanctuary group for a decade, and it's back this season! Please help us out by only donating items in good condition that others would be pleased to gift a family member or friend.

As you bag up your treasures, please attach a note with a suggested price for your items. This will help us when we set up for the sale!

Place your donations in the Regifting Bin in the lobby of the Meetinghouse now through Sunday, November 29. Volunteers are welcome to help sort, finish pricing, and stage gift items on sale tables starting Monday, November 30. To volunteer, please contact Mary Sherwin at mary.sherwin@gmail.com or 860-874-6399.

The sale will take place after Sunday services on December 5 and December 12 after the service. A special sale for children and their families will be held on Saturday morning, December 11 from 10 am to noon.

Book Table at Coffee Hour!

Please bring your dollars and find great books that your USH friends have chosen to share with you! AND please continue to cull your bookshelves and donate books that YOU really liked and want to pass on. Fiction, non fiction, cookbooks, mysteries, spiritual, nature, art, self help and also books for kids and youth—let's get into the spirit of sharing with one another! Books can be left in the office in a plastic container labeled for book collection. We have a good group of volunteers for this activity. Any questions, contact Susan at susanhope51@gmail.com or 860 463 6407.

we are back to singing on Second Saturdays

Hi folks,

Join us at the next Meetinghouse Sing-Along! Fred Louis and Ed Savage are offering an opportunity to CT Singing families, singers, song-writers and audience members to join in song on the second Saturday of each month from 2 to 5 PM. We will have song-sheets and some loaner copies of Rise Up Singing available. Bring along your own 'Rise Up Singing' if you have one, as we have used it a lot in other months. We will also use the maroon/purple "Rise Again" sequel – 1200 more songs to sample, plus any song-sheets you care to contribute (bring about 20 copies for the group). If the October weather holds, we will meet to the right of the building, in the Memorial Garden patio. We'll put some chairs in a circle and take turns singing or playing, with those who know the tune or words joining in as they wish. You can come early or come late, whatever fits your family schedule. The UU Meeting House is at 50 Bloomfield Avenue in Hartford. Some of us bring snacks, but that is not required ( or organized). Donations to defray building expenses are encouraged. Look for a sign near the front door if you can't see or hear us right away. We will be around to the right of the main entrance, down the (rough) path to the patio. VAX protocol - OK to sing, socially spaced, if you are vaccinated; even so, masks would probably be a good idea. If you have NOT completed a COVID Vaccination, we ask that you skip the Sing-Alongs for now, to protect you from US.

Contact: Fred Louis ( FLouis@yahoo.com ) with questions and suggestions.

Next month, we will probably be inside; let's discuss how that will work during our 3:30 break on Saturday (or via e-mails).

"I'm black, I sing, I play an acoustic guitar, and I don't play the blues," Gilbert insists. That may be a broad statement, but it rings with truth. His remarkable rapport with his audiences and his free spirited performances inspired one critic to hail him as "a folkie trapped in a vaudevillian body," with "a voice that could have been on the opera stage, a wit that could have been on a comedy stage and a songwriting talent that's thrust him on the folk stage for decades."
